

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The Brookside.

I wandered by the brookside,
I wandered by the mill;
I could not hear the brook flow—
The noisy wheel was still.
There was no burr of grasshopper,
No chirp of any bird,
But the beating of my own heart
Was all the sound I heard.

I sat beneath the elm-tree;
I watched the long, long shade,
And, as it grew still longer,
I did not feel afraid;
For I listened for a footfall,
I listened for a word—
But the beating of my own heart
Was all the sound I heard.

He came not—no, he came not—
The night came on apace;
The little stars came out one by one,
Each on his golden throne;
The evening wind passed by my cheek,
The leaves above were stirred—
But the beating of my own heart
Was all the sound I heard.

Past, silent tears were flowing
When something stood behind.
A hand was on my shoulder
I knew its touch was kind;
It drew me nearer—nearer—
We did not speak one word,
For the beating of our own hearts
Was all the sound we heard.

—RICHARD MOUNTAIN MILNES.
Gordon—McGuire.

Mrs. Hunter McGuire has issued invitations for the marriage of her daughter, Margaret Cameron, to Mr. Arthur Gordon, of Savannah, Georgia, the wedding to take place at 9 o'clock, on the evening of May 21st, in St. Paul's Episcopal Church. A reception will be given later to the bride party and relatives of the contracting parties in the home of the bride, at the southwest corner of Fifth and Grace Streets.

Porter—Rudd.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Frances Estelle Rudd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Rudd, of Belton, Powhatan county, Va., to Mr. Robert Gregory Porter, of Powhatan.

Boyd—Rogers.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Virginia Mortimer Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Rogers, of Roanoke, Va., to Dr. Philip Williams Boyd, Jr., of Winchester, Va., son of Dr. and Mrs. P. W. Boyd, of that city, and graduate of the University of Medicine, this city, in the class of 1898. The marriage will take place at 9 o'clock P. M., June 6th, in the home of the bride's parents, "Buena Vista," near Roanoke, Va. The bride will have as maid of honor, her sister, Miss Mary Rogers, and Mr. Frederick S. Boyd, of Winchester, will attend the groom as best man. The future home of the bridal couple will be at Winchester, Va., where Dr. Boyd ranks high as a physician and surgeon.

Watkins—Landrum.

A wedding of much interest to the many Richmond friends of the bride and groom was that of Miss Margaret Landrum to Mr. Frank Nathaniel Watkins, which took place yesterday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the First Baptist Church of Atlanta, Ga. The Rev. Dr. W. W. Landrum, father of the bride, officiated. Special interest attaches to the fact that this, the last marriage in the present house of worship of the First Baptist congregation, was that of the pastor's daughter.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Harriett Blackley, of Atlanta, and the maid of honor was Miss Grace Warren Landrum, the bride's sister, both of whom wore yellow crepe de chine and carried bunches of daisies tied with yellow tulle. Misses Ethel Eastin, Gladys Snook, Bessie Ray, Alice Orr, Elsie Landrum and Mary Briscoe were the bridesmaids. They wore very dainty gowns of white chiffon, with white girdles and gloves, and also carried daisies.

Mr. Charles Dabney McKinney, of Atlanta, was best man, and the groomsmen were Messrs. George Beall, of New York; William S. Ryland, of Savannah; James Calloway, of Macon, Ga.; L. A. Jordan, of Hawkinsville, Ga.; W. A. Blue, of Dublin, Ga.; and John Gilmore and Henry Alexander, of Atlanta. The following gentlemen were ushers: Captain W. A. Hamard, Messrs. Henry E. Watkins, Harriett Blackley, S. B. McKinney, Samuel Bushnell and John W. Murrill.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of white liberty silk, with a bertha of duchesse lace. Her flowers were lilies of the valley.

After the ceremony the bridal party was entertained at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Landrum.

Mr. and Mrs. Watkins left at midnight for a Northern tour, which will include a visit to Virginia. They will make their home in Dublin, Ga., where Mr. Watkins is connected with the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company.

Mrs. Watkins is the daughter of the Rev. W. W. Landrum, for years the pastor of the Second Baptist Church, in Richmond, where the bride spent her early youth and where she was a great social favorite.

Mr. Watkins belongs to the old Virginia family of that name and formerly lived at "Ingleside," the family home near Farmville, Va.

Young Pianist's Debut.

A talented pupil of Mr. Hahn's, Miss Helen Broadbush, of Bowling Green, gave a piano recital last Wednesday in Mr. Hahn's studio, before his whole music class and several invited guests. This young and promising musician gave a rather exacting programme of classic and modern music in a manner far beyond the average amateur performance, evincing not only unusual talent, but also diligent study and thorough training. Her selections were played in a really artistic manner, both as to technique, expression and style, and reflected great credit on herself, as well as her teacher, Mr. Hahn.

Miss Broadbush, the latter having recently distinguished herself at the late music festival in playing with the orchestra. Miss Broadbush was assisted in her recital by a promising young pupil of Miss Helen Broadbush's, Miss Margaret Boyd.

The programme was as follows: Overture, "Oberon," Weber; Miss Martha Robinson and Mr. Hahn; Moonlight, Sonata, Beethoven; Miss Helen Broadbush; "If I Knew," Gaynor; Miss Margaret Boyd; Prelude and Fugue, No. 2, Bach; Spinning Song, Mendelssohn; Nostalgia, op. 31, No. 2, Chopin; Rondo, Brilliant, Weber; Miss Helen Broadbush; "The Sky-lark's Song," Buck; Miss Margaret Boyd; Kammerlied, Ostrow; Rubenstein; Liebestraum, Liszt; Valse, Brillante, op. 42, Chopin; Miss Helen Broadbush.

Two Sonnets From the Portuguese

By MRS. BROWNING.

Browning at one time used to call his wife "the little Portuguese," because she was dark complexioned. She wrote her sonnets from the Portuguese about the time of their honeymoon. She would sit one into his hand and then go from the room. When she wrote them they were not intended for publication. She thought them too personal. Her husband was of opinion that they should be published. She assented, but disclaimed them under the name "Sonnets from the Portuguese," a title which means many suppose that they were translations.

Other selections from this author, her portrait, autograph and biographical sketch, have already been printed in this series.

GO from me. Yet I feel that I shall stand
Henceforth in thy shadow. Nevermore
Alone upon the threshold of my door
Of individual life, I shall command
The uses of my soul, nor lift my hand
Without the sense of that which I forbore,
Thy touch upon the palm. The widest hand
Doom takes to part us, leaves thy heart in mine
With pulses that beat double. What I do
And what I dream include thee, as the wine
Must taste of its own grapes. And when I sue
God for myself, he hears that name of thine
And sees within my eyes the tears of two.

Indeed, this very love which is my boast,
And which, when rising up from breast to brow,
Doth crown me with a ruby large enow
To draw men's eyes and prove the inner cost,
This love even, all my worth, to the uttermost,
I should not love without, unless that thou
Hast set me an example, shown me how
When first thine earnest eyes with mine were crossed,
And love called love. And thus, I cannot speak
Of love even, as a good thing of my own.
Thy soul hath snatched up mine all faint and weak,
And placed it by thee on a golden throne,
And that I love (O soul, we must be meek!)
Is by thee only whom I love alone.

Food Cure

NATURE'S WAY

See Diet List Below.

HEALTH REGAINED VIA FOOD.

A man may try all sorts of drugs to help him to get well, but, after all, the "food cure" is the method intended by Nature.

Anyone can prove the efficacy of the food cure by taking use of the following breakfast each morning for fifteen or twenty days:

A dish containing not more than four heaping teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts food, enough good, rich cream to go with it, some raw or cooked fruit, not more than two slices of entire wheat bread, and not more than one cup of Postum Food Coffee, to be sipped, not drunk hurriedly. Let this suffice for the breakfast.

Let one meal in the day consist of an abundance of good meat, potato, and one or two vegetables.

This method will quickly prove the value of the selection of the right kind of food to rebuild the body and replace the lost tissue which is destroyed every day and must be made up, or disease of some sort enters in. This is an age of specialists, and the above suggestions are given by a specialist in food values, dietetics and hygiene.

COULDN'T DO THE WORK.

Printers' Strike Delays Planhart Company in State Printing.

The Planhart Printing Company have failed to complete the printing of the Virginia reports under the contract awarded them by Superintendent Davis. Botom, and the bona fide work for the concern will have to be done, the contract having been annulled.

The printers strike caused the delay, "By reason of the unavoidable delay," said Mr. Planhart yesterday, "the contract has been extended thirty days, and the work is now being done by us at the instance of the bondsmen. Much of the type is already up and the press work is being done as fast as the proof sheets are returned. We are now getting out some thirty-two pages a day, and there is no reason why we should not complete the volume within the thirty days which has been given by reason of the circumstances familiar to the public."

DELEGATES BACK FROM CONFERENCE

Superintendent Davis made a strong fight to land from the convention of the National Conference of Charities and Corrections to Minneapolis to select Richmond for 1908.

The Southern delegates were treated royally, and enjoyed their trip very much. Those who went from Virginia were: The Rev. E. S. Maslin, of the Methodist Orphanage; the Rev. A. B. HOLDING FINALS OF UNION UNIVERSITY

Large Class of Graduates, Who Listen to Splendid Addresses.

The seventh annual commencement of the Virginia Union University began with the sermon to the graduating classes preached on Sunday, May 13th in Coburn Hall, the university chapel, by Rev. H. H. Waring, of Alexandria, Va. A large audience greeted the speaker. The morning session of the university with the university in the service. President Tamm and President Hovey, with some other visitors, occupied the rostrum.

On Monday evening, May 14th, occurred the graduating exercises of the academy. There were fifteen young men who received certificates.

President Hovey delivered the address to the class, emphasizing the obligation to serve one's fellowmen and the age in which one lives.

The University Alumni Association held its business and literary sessions on Tuesday, Dr. W. P. Graham, of Richmond, of the class of 1883, read a very interesting history of the graduates whose lives have counted for something in the Church and in the nation.

A notable feature of the week was the presentation of a diploma of $100 to Rev. G. M. P. King, D. D., university professor of rhetoric, who founded Wayland Seminary and has now completed thirty-nine years of service. It was a complete surprise to the veteran educator and it moved him and the audience deeply. The very best spirit characterized all the exercises of the week and the speeches were full of good-will toward the university, its president, teachers and students. It seems quite evident that the institution has started on an upward march to higher and better things.

Yesterday morning a social study club held its second annual meeting and listened to a comprehensive and encouraging paper on the condition and needs of the negro churches of Virginia.

The annual commencement exercises proper were held in Coburn Hall in the evening. The following men received degrees:

A. Archie Baker, Hampton; Eugene A. Jones, Richmond; Lloyd O. Lewis, Huntington, W. Va.; Alfred S. Reed, Brownsville, Tenn.

Ph. D. for three years' graduate work, Rev. W. H. Stokes, A. B., class of 1903; A. M., class of 1904.

Honorary Degrees, D. D.—Rev. Evans Payne, pastor, Fourth Baptist Church, Richmond, Va.; Rev. H. L. Bates, Portsmouth, Va.; Rev. Julius I. Loving, Washington, D. C.

Dr. S. C. Mitchell, one of the trustees of the University, gave an inspiring, hopeful and practical address, emphasizing the need of good-will between the races, of an educational campaign among the negroes, similar to that recently carried on among the whites, and of reclaiming the poor lands of the State as the foundation of all progress.

President George Rios Hovey addressed the graduates and conferred the degrees.
